When all is said and done, our generation might actually be one of the most broken generations to have ever walked this earth... or did Sarai ever break Abram’s heart? Adam wouldn’t even want to date the Eve’s of these days.

Just abandoned without any words, without any explanation. No warning, no answers. One day I'm excitedly planning a future with her, the next day she's just gone. Cut all contact. In my opinion, it doesn't get much worse than that.

When my Boyfriend took his Ex on a baecation I paid for

He was depressed and asked if he could bring the "boys" and instead I was like you can just go with them and I'll join later.

Anyways he posted him and his ex in the Hot Tub on Snapchat

Heartbreak is not new to me Sha

Please crop out my name

So we dated for 2 years when I was in secondary school. Then she started ignoring me in 2015 when I was enrolled in a certain university . I still had faith in the relationship but When I went home on holiday my world turned upside down when I found out that she was pregnant for a very successful doctor. my heart still aches till this day at the slightest thought of it

Dan Lu Plans Tour

After his performances in South Africa recently, musician Dan Lufani has said he is set to go on a countrywide tour.

Dan Lu said yesterday that he had a successful tour in South Africa and that now it was time to give people a treat back home.

“We are starting with Blantyre and then we will move to Mangochi then Ntcheu and then go all the way to the Northern Region. He said the countrywide tour will also be part of giving people a treat as they look forward to the festive season.

Dan Lu is also tonight expected to perform at Mingle formerly Cockpit where he is set to share the stage with Janta.

Silent Red Flags

BY Zindzitswa Mvula

Red Flags are relationship warning signs that communicate “danger ahead”, and people who ignore them end up in an unhealthy relationship broken, hurt, and in pain. If you ignore them you will regret later. Ignoring a red light as a driver might wreck your life and destroy not only your life but also damage other people's life. The same concept works in a relationship, ignoring a red flag, and hoping for a miracle is a 50/50 bargain. The majority of times the story ends in disaster.

Feeling Insecure

If you're feeling insecure in your relationship, I suggest you take a pause and address the issues. Sometimes our issues might be internal others might be external evaluating your feelings honestly will save you a lot of pain in the future. I believe that always trust your gut feeling when you feel it because it is always right.

Talking about their Ex all the time

The second sign you're heading into a toxic relationship. Is when your partner keeps comparing you with their ex. It's such a weird thing but people do it. Have you ever been with someone who keeps talking about their ex as if they are still in love? That's a red flag, I don't know about you but for me, I don't want to be compared to someone else who doesn't exist anymore but find their way into our conversation every single time. You need to be with someone who gives you the attention you deserve and never comparing you with their past relationship. Bringing your past relationship into your present one is a sign of immaturity, deal with your past before they ask you out. if you're the one comparing your partner with your ex you need to stop, it's unfair to put that kind of expectation on someone who genuinely wants to love you the way they know-how.

Any Kind of Abuse

Any form of abuse is a huge red flag no matter how small or innocent it looks” you need to take care of yourself but also you need a partner that can take care of you. A relationship is all about being vulnerable and you want to be with someone who protects your vulnerability and takes care of you. Some of us are coming from painful childhoods, bad relationship experience, family pains and we need our relationship to be at least a safe place for us. The red sign in the traffic light communicates possible danger you might not see it but trust the light.

Phyzix to star KaJive

Rapper Phyzix is set to star at tomorrow's KaJive Dance competition Second Elimination Show.

The show will be held at Times Entertainment Studio in Blantyre.

Phyzix, who's had a great year as far as the music goes, says he's looking forward to the show.

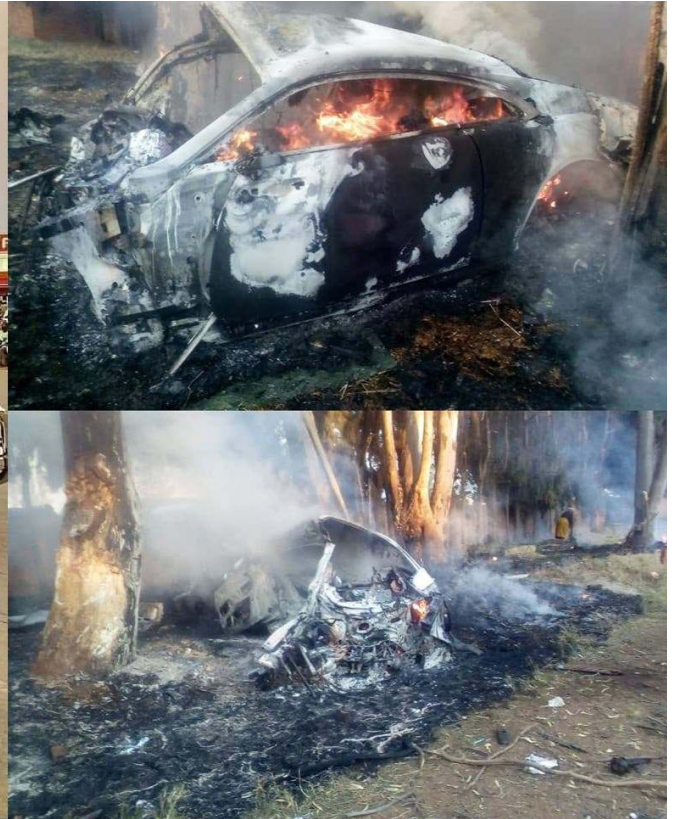

"I am very ready for the performance. I am happy to perform at such a platform and I am looking forward to adding colour to the show," Phyzix said.

The grand finale of Ka Jive Dance competition will be held on December 19 2020. The winner in the competition is expected to walk away with K1 million whereas the first and second runner ups will pocket K400,000 and K150,000 respectively.

Ginimbi Accident Update

The latest in the Ginimbi accident story details came in during the week as Lucky Chikwanda, the driver of the blue Honda Fit which collided with the late socialite Genius “Ginimbi” Kadungure’s Rolls Royce on Sunday said it pains him when people accuse him of causing the businessman’s death.

Lucky said he is “just a poor guy” and the claims that he intentionally caused the accident which killed Ginimbi are outrageous as the Rolls Royce was “flying”.

Lucky experienced minor injuries and is recovering at home after medical treatment.

“My life flashed before my eyes. I don’t even know what saved me because we could have died on the spot.

I was with my friend, Artwell; driving at about 60 to 80 kilometres per hour, on our way from Hatcliff.

Just as we approached the curve after Borrowdale Police Station, I saw a car trying to overtake two others.

The vehicle encroached into my lane and it was too late for the driver to apply emergency brakes and for me to avoid him because he was speeding.

The next thing we collided. His car veered off the road and hit a tree,” he said.

Lucky’s friend, Artwell, too, survived unscathed.

The accident also claimed the life of a Malawian who was on the run from the Malawi government over his alleged involvement in the cashgate scandal..

Collabo?

This week, the rumour mill was awash with the possibility of Malawian hit maker Sonye and South African artist AKA working together.

A picture in which the two took, sparked the idea in most Malawian social media users. Well, unfortunately - to them Sonye has confirmed with FYI that he is not working with AKA.

“I am not working with AKA, I simply met him at his album launch and asked him for a picture,” he clarified.
